New York Stock Market

New York, July 21.—Until the reduction in the dividend on National Lead was announced, the stock market to-day was a humdrum affair. The news of this action created some speculative excitement, and its influence was reinforced by the wholly unsupported state of the stock in the market. Sales of 10c shore lots could be effected only at rapid concessions of 1 to 11-2 points between sales. Closing last night as deven sales. Closing last night as deven sales. Closing last night as deven sales with the stock sold as low as $2. Such a violent and abrupt shrinkage in market valuation, even of a slingle security, was bound to precipitate some protective liquidation in other stocks, without considering the interences to be drawn regarding trade conditions.

The effect on speculative sentiment and on the stock market position was enhanced by the use made for two days of vignely defined rumors of steps taken to better the copper trade position and push up the price of the metal industrisis. The suspicion on the part of buyers of these stocks that they had been duped or that a contest between trade forces was being waged that threatened the success of any effort to secure agreement in the trade prompted sheavy throwing over of the metal materials, and the whole list was brought into the scope of the influence. American Smelting showed the effect of the large financial interests common to the two companies in its close sympathy with National Lead, and copper securities were naturally affected quite acutely.

The advance in the price of National Lead preferred in face of the demoralization in the common stock was a commentary on the increased benefit of conserving earnings for the senior security. The simple explanation offered for the reduced dividend was not announced until after the close of the market, but last prices showed some speculative sentiment. Solicitude was already making itself felt for the showing to be made by the United States Steel Corporation in its quarterly statement of earnings to be published Tuesday.

the subtreasury continue to add large amounts to the cash holdings of the banks, the gain from that source since the last bank statement having risen to $7,505,000. The Bank of England and the Bank of France both made strong returns to-day, but demands of the English money market are hardening discounts.

Time money is growing easier, and the foreign exchange market was firm to-day.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,009,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day, 528,500.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, July 21.—The cotton market was more or less irregular to-day in line with conflicting reports as to both crop and trade conditions, but generally speakins, demand showed a tendency to increase on moderate declines, and the close was very steady, net 2 points lower to 4 points higher, new crops being relatively firm. The opening was steady at an advance of 6710 points, and prices held up to a net gain of 19214 points during the early trading. This was due to a renewal of yesterday's covering movement and fresh buying for long account, inspired by better cabins than expected and the unfavorable average of crop account, inspired by better cabins than expected and the unfavorable average of crop account gas to be a steady of the confliction of the demand period of the confliction of the demand as soon as the market beyand to hesitate as a result of dealing, local professionals started selling on more favorable croping from Texas and Okiahoma. After cepting off to about the closing figures of yesterday under this pressure the market steaded to a net gain of some 456 points on trade duying, but reached the lowest point of the day a little later in the afternoon under Wall Street selling, attributed to weakness in the stock market, some three of your points under the final figures of vesterday.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET;
Chicago, Ill., July 21.—Corn led the entire speculative trade on 'change here to-day. Transactions in that cereal reached huge proportions. Excitement because of fear that dry weather might ruin the growing grain was the sole cause. The scare resulted in a net advance of 1½ to 2½°42½c. a bushol in the price of the yellow kernels, and apparently saved wheat from a sharp decline. Closing for the latter stuple were irregular, ½°6½c. higher to ½c. lower, Oats inished with gains of ½°4½. to ½c. Provisions were unchanged to 12½c. up.
